THE SCHOONER CAPTURED.

THE HENRIETTA SEIZED NEAR WAIANAE ON SATURDAY.

Nearly Fourteen Hundred Pounds of Opium on Board—Details of the Capture—Her Passenger.

Deputy Collector McStocker is wearing a big feather in his cap today and receiving the congratulations of his many friends over the success which has finally attended his efforts to capture the strange schooner and her big cargo of opium. The BULLETIN is also entitled to wear a feather, for it is the only paper in town that has given the public any information at all concerning the schooner and her movements. Every item concerning the schooner, her destination, cargo, captain and even the fact that the same opium found on board was originally sold by the Hawaiian Government has been verified and is already familiar to readers of the BULLETIN.

The details of the vessel's capture are as follows: On Saturday evening Deputy Sheriff Sheldon of Waianae was informed that a strange schooner had anchored off Kean and landed a passenger. Sheldon started off to investigate and soon after leaving Waianae met the man he was looking for and placed him under arrest. He gave the name of C. E. Gale and said the schooner was the Kate and Annie on her way to Hongkong. That the captain had lost his reckoning and did not know exactly where he was, and that he was also short of provisions and water. Sheldon soon found the schooner and hurried back to the jail, from whence he telephoned particulars to Marshal Brown, who in turn notified Mr. McStocker. In a few minutes the tug Eleu was in readiness and set out after the schooner with Marshal Brown, Mr. McStocker and a detail of armed police on board.

When near Waianae Sheldon was met in a boat and taken aboard as pilot. When the vicinity of the schooner was reached, a boat containing Marshal Brown and police was lowered and in an hour or so found the schooner anchored about a quarter of a mile from shore. Marshal Brown boarded her. Only one person was on deck and he claimed to be the captain and that his name was Anderson. He said the schooner was the Henrietta and that his vessel was bound for La Paz, Mexico, and that he had put in to the islands as he was short of water and provisions. He denied that he had any passenger with him and said that he had left Victoria on November 7th and had sighted the island of Molokai on December 20th.

Marshal Brown then signalled the tug and soon afterwards the schooner was boarded by Deputy Collector McStocker and Surveyor Sanders and more police. The vessel's papers were examined and the manifest showed part of her cargo to be forty cases of drugs. One of these was opened and found to contain opium, whereupon the schooner was seized and her captain and crew placed under arrest for bringing contraband goods into Hawaiian waters. Those arrested in addition to Captain Anderson were three white men and the Chinese cook who gave the names of J. H. Brown, H. W. Wheeler, Mike Connell and Ho Wai.

When the schooner was searched an abundance of water and provisions was found on board. The amount and character of the opium found is identical with that shipped some months ago by the Hawaiian government to R. P. Rithet & Co., at Victoria, but it had been repacked in new boxes.

The schooner was brought into port yesterday morning and is lying at Oceanic dock in charge of Customs officers, where she is the object of much curiosity.

The six defendants were brought up in the Police Court this morning and charged with smuggling. As the Court was engaged in hearing the conspiracy case the matter went over until tomorrow.

CENTRAL UNION CHURCH.

Fine Service of Song by the Choir
Yesterday.

The fact that there was to be a special song service Sunday morning at Central Union Church had a tendency to bring out a more than usually large number of people. The largest choir that has appeared for over a year sang the service, proving a credit to themselves and the church. The music was greatly enhanced by the violin playing of Mr. Love. A number of solos and solo parts were rendered. No. 4 had solo parts by Mrs. Warriner and Miss Axtell. No. 10 was rendered by Wm. Hoogs and Mrs. Paty, and No. 12 solo by Miss Axtell. The gem of the morning was considered by many to be the anthem solos rendered by Mrs. Warriner and Miss Axtell. Miss Nettie Burhans is a fine organist and an excellent choir leader. The introduction of other instruments besides the organ is a regular practice in the larger cities of America, and many churches make a special feature of the song service. If the minister's sermon is powerful enough to set the music-lovers thinking, the ambition of the church and pastor will be gratified. Following is the order of exercises at Central Union church yesterday morning:

1. Organ Prelude.
2. Doxology.
3. Invocation.
4. Anthem—"Sing, O Heavens."—B-Tours.
5. Scripture reading.
6. Anthem—"O Zion, that tellest glad tidings"—Dudley Buck.
7. Scripture Reading.
8. Hymn.
9. Prayer.
10. Anthem—"The Holy Child"—Harry Rowe Shelley.
11. Offertory—Messiah.—Handel.
12. Sermon.
13. Hymn.
14. Prayer and Benediction.
15. Postlude.

Saturday Night's Concert.

An enthusiastic and delighted audience listened to the concert given at the Y. M. C. A. hall on Saturday evening, by Ovide Musin, assisted by Mrs. Musin and Mr. Scharf. Every number was exquisitely rendered and heartily applauded. Honolulu lovers of good music will seldom have an opportunity of listening to such a delightful entertainment, and every seat in the hall ought to be filled tonight.

ALLEGED CONSPIRATORS

TESTIMONY PRESENTED BY THE PROSECUTION.

Lanai to be a Second Monte Carlo, and the Scene of Prize Fights and Lotteries Galore.

The preliminary examination of Underwood and Sheridan took place this morning in the District Court, the defense being represented by A. G. M. Robertson and the prosecution by Deputy-Attorney-General Carter. Minister Cooper was also in attendance.

Paul Neumann was the first witness. He said that Underwood called at his office the latter part of November or beginning of December, and spoke to him about acquiring the Hazelden property on Lanai for a colonization scheme. That he had successfully carried out a similar scheme at Guatemala. Sheridan called at his office and inquired for Mr. Hazelden after he saw Underwood, about the beginning of December. He told me that he wanted to see Hazelden for a definite purpose. That there was a syndicate of sporting men in the States who wanted to acquire the island of Lanai if they could obtain a concession for carrying on a lottery and turn Lanai into a sporting place like Monte Carlo, and have prizefights, horse races, etc. He said he wanted a concession from the Queen for that purpose, as he knew it was of no use to apply to the present government. He thought there would be no difficulty in obtaining these concessions if there was a change of government and the queen was restored. He said that if these concessions could be obtained and a guarantee given thereof that money could be obtained to put the queen back again, and that he had information that men and arms could be obtained in San Francisco. Lanai could be used as a base for the landing of supplies and arms and a descent made on both ends of Oahu at once. The propositions made were so vague and indefinite that the witness did not take any stock in them.

On cross examination Mr. Neumann said: His evident purpose was to ascertain if Hayselden's consent to the scheme and that of the ex-queen could be obtained, at least I presume from his conversation that was his object. There was nothing in what he said to indicate that the sporting men and gamblers in the United States had been consulted. His proposition was that if the scheme worked all the prize fights and lottery schemes could be brought to the islands and a lot of money made here.

F. H. Hayselden, sworn: I reside at Lanai. I have seen Underwood before. First saw him at Hawaiian hotel in latter part of October or early part of November. Boy came to me there with card of Dr. Underwood. Saw him there for five minutes. Said he heard I was interested in an island and he was getting up a colonization scheme and he wanted to see me about it. I referred him to Mr. Neumann, my attorney. I saw him afterward about middle of November at McKenzies' house. I went to see him because Mr. Neumann asked me to. He stated that he represented Chicago capital for investment if he could be allowed certain privileges. One of these was to turn Lanai into a Monte Carlo and establish a lottery here. If that privilege could be obtained there would be no difficulty in raising money. I told him it was not possible under the present government. It would have to come by legislative enactment.

He said he didn't see why the ex-queen could not be restored, and thought there was plenty of capital in the States lying idle which could be used for that purpose if the owners could be assured they would reap any future advantages. I have met a man who said he was Sheridan, but it was in the day on the veranda. He said he was a friend of Mr. Underwood and made similar statements to him. He said moneyed men would advance capital if they could get privileges in return. The change of government in favor of the ex-queen was to be inferred from his conversation but there was nothing direct about it. This was previous to Nov. 7th.

Cross - examination.— Nothing definite concerning the island was said. I thought they were government agents and was very guarded in my statements. There was nothing definite, no price offered or anything of that kind.

Underwood, the alleged conspirator.

F. W. Weed, sworn: I have seen Sheridan, saw him in the store. He introduced himself under that name. He commenced asking me about politics. He asked me who would be the best people to go to to assist in an uprising and if I knew anyone who had any guns for that purpose. He referred to his partner and said they had come down thinking they could start a revolution here. I referred him to Sam Nowlein as the best person to go to. Nowlein was here then. He came in about a week after and tried to borrow money for the purpose of going to Lanai. He was not successful in his application. He said that he wanted to go to Hawaii and that he was going to take the town of Hilo. He thought it would take from five to ten minutes to do it. He said his name was also Morrow and that he was the one referred to in the Chronicle of the 15th of August. The first interview was four or five weeks ago and I had an interview with Marshal Brown about a week after. Did not look up the Chronicle he referred to. Was prosecuted for conspiracy against the government about a year ago.

Cross examination.—There were about four interviews altogether. He asked me how strong the government was, and if I knew where there were any guns to be had. Told him the government was strong enough to take care of itself and that I did not know anything about guns. Two ladies came in during the conversation, and the boy who works in the store was there. The next time he came was two days after. He wanted me to give him references to likely people who would assist him. He asked me for a letter of introduction to Paul Neumann which I refused, but I did advise him to see Sam Nowlein. Those three interviews were all in one week. Saw him again the following Tuesday when he tried to negotiate the loan. Have not seen him since.

Dr. Tucker sworn.—Have resided in Honolulu since November 4th. Am acquainted with both defendants. Saw them first in San Francisco on board the bark Wil-
